Ringkasan

I have experience as a Fullstack Web Developer, having completed a 3-month training program on Fazztrack. My interest in programming began when I started studying Javascript. I have created several project websites using Node.js and Express.js for the Backend and React.js and Next.js for the Frontend, with PostgreSQL and Supabase as databases. Additionally, I am familiar with working on Github.
I am capable of communicating and collaborating within a team, as well as working independently.
Besides English, I also speak Arabic.
